When the champagne was passed around the chairman rose to read a telegram from Professor Fitz Simon, Inspector of Schools for the Republic, who had been called away to Catamarca on official business, and expressed his regret that he was unable to attend, at the same time desiring to be associated with his countrymen in their good wishes for the Emerald Isle.

The chairman than proceeded to give the first toast—

"The Land we live in."

He said this Argentine land had proved a happy home for thousands of poor Irishmen, men now in the possession of affluence, surrounded by their families; their children were born here and formed an indissoluble bond between the Irish community and Argentina. Nothing in this world was perfect, and this country had some faults, but the drawbacks were as nothing compared to those in Ireland. Irishmen were never accused of ingratitude, and hence they prized the freedom and blessings which they enjoyed under the Republic of the Southern Cross. He gave the toast with all the energy of his soul. (Loud applause.)

Dr. O'Farrell responded. I am proud to be called on to answer for the land of my birth, the dearest to my heart. We have had troubled times in the past, and there are clouds ahead of us, but this great country has sufficient, sustaining, elements to work out her future. Sons of Irishmen were among the founders of our Independence. On dry land Gen. O'Brien led his men to victory and humbled the Spanish legions, while Admiral Brown swept the enemies of the young Republic from the face of the Ocean. And so may it be in the future! May Irishmen and their sons freely give their best efforts to advance this noble country; the love of Argentina and of the Mother Country, dear old Ireland, holding equal sway in the breasts of the new generation.

Mr. Hansen gave the next toast "Prosperity to Ireland"—Salve Hibernia! This is truly to me a welcome toast, for Irish blood courses in my veins and the mother of my children is a daughter of Erin. Whatever may have been the origin of the Irish race it has a fibre and strength of character that ages cannot weaken, and that no persecution can uproot. But it is not merely the genius of the Irish nation to endure: it is also to progress. In the barbaric times when Europe lay shrouded in gloom the Western Isle shone as the lamp of learning. Her day of prosperity was afterwards overclouded. The spoiler came and conquered. Every effort that Ireland made to cast off her shackles was in vain. The Irishman became a Pariah in his own land. The soil of Erin was no place for him any longer, but wherever honor or valor were likely to win a fair reward, there you found the Irishman in the forefront. The camps and courts of Austria, France and Spain held no greater soldiers or statesmen. And when in later years the New World, bursting into all the vigor of manhood, called for a race of hardy settlers the energy of Ireland found expansion on the shores of La Plata, as well as in other parts of this continent. Doubtless the hardships that Irishmen suffered at home served as an apprenticeship to teach them how to build up a nation in Argentina. Better days are now appearing for Ireland, and who can tell the sweep that this vigorous race will take in the destinies of the world when the last vestige of oppression is removed? A poet has said that the little forest bird, untaught, pours forth in song the melody that thrills its being; but man, more limited, lacks speech, lacks words to clothe his thoughts, to give utterance to the deep longings of his soul. My tongue cannot express the feelings that throng upon me in proposing Prosperity to Ireland (continued applause.)

Mr. Dinneen in response said:—

A halo of hope and glory encircles Ireland on St. Patrick's Day. Irishmen have had a hard battle to fight in the last 50 years, but we have weathered the storm, and our barque now rides bravely before the wind. I may be blamed for making mention of the political condition of our country, but my heart is full, and I must speak out. The government of Ireland is essentially and traditionally bad. It is a pious belief in England that every successive Viceroy introduces a milder form of despotism, but this is a mistake. The form of government is a cast iron one. Take any branch of the public service, and you find that among all but the subordinates Irishmen are rigidly excluded. Perhaps you will think that the Board of Works ought to be in the hands of native Irishmen. Well, it is a sad truth that there is not an Irishman on the Board. Can you imagine a similar state of things in any country but Poland? The evil to which I allude has been, moreover, adverted to by Lord Wolseley, a man indeed of Irish birth, but whose life and labors have been freely given to England. He says there is no sympathy between ruler and ruled, there is no tact among the official class, no attempt to establish an "entente cordiale" with the Irish people. Is it any wonder that the government of Ireland is a failure, a scandal to Europe in the closing years of the 19th century?

The Government of a country is condemned when the population declines as it does in Ireland. The last census shewed a decrease of 10 per cent in ten years. On the other hand look at the condition of Irishmen in this country; happy, prosperous and contented. This is truly a lesson for statesmen, and while we all cordially wish prosperity to the old land we cannot but feel equally attached to the land of our adoption, (cheers.)

Dr. Hanly sang the Wearing of the Green with exquisite feeling, which was greeted with rounds of applause.

The next toast was "the Irishmen in the River Plate" proposed by Mr. Byrne, who said:—

This toast might have easily fallen into better hands. There are men around this board, who are associated with the progress of this country, men worthy of Ireland and of the land of their adoption. If I may be permitted to say so, I should like to see more unity among our countrymen. They are necessarily scattered over a vast area, but at least they ought to meet on this one day in the year. They form a community of which any country might well be proud. Let us hope they will keep up this celebration of our national anniversary every year.

In reply to the toast Mr. Francis H. Mulhall said:—

In rising to respond for my countrymen in the River Plate I can but regret that the honor has not fallen to some one else, for as I glance around this gay and festive board I see several of my friends more worthy und more capable of doing justice to the toast. Besides I greatly fear that you will charge me with want of patriotism, if I state plainly that the future of my native land is of little interest to me if compared with the actual status and possible greatness of our countrymen herein resident. Not that I love Ireland less. Not that I love Argentina more: although as you may very well imagine the fatherland of my children does and always must hold a very warm corner in my heart of hearts.

My reason then for treating the Home Rule question so lightly is simply this: that now and for years past the attention of the entire civilised world has been concentrated on this grand reform act, and nothing that I could say or do would influence the issue in the least.

Over here, however, things are very different. Which of you, my countrymen is thinking of combined action to help each other along?

Who dreams of attaining those high posts in the commonwealth that the enlightened constitution of this free republican land places within our easy grasp?

Our motto appears to be: "Each one for himself and God for us all." Hence the public posts are too often filled with men of inferior metal, to the double detriment of ourselves and the republic at large. That we possess within ourselves all the great qualities necessary to success is abundantly proved by the fact that, divided and all as we are, many of our countrymen or their descendants have risen by steady, honest work to the front ranks in their several professions.

Take the legal, with Drs. O'Farrell, Klappenback, Galbraith, Morris, Williams and others. Or the medical with Hanly, Keogh, Peacan, Murphy and a whole host too numerous to mention; the commercial and banking with Messrs Fennessy, Ham, Nicholas Lowe, Hardy and others at the head. In the Army and navy the names of Grl. Donovan, Col. Mulleady, O'Connor and Brown are synonymous with bravery, discipline and merit. Whilst even as editors, I think I may fairly say that some of us have proved fully equal to all the grand requirements of that most useful and ennobling profession.

When I speak to my friends of becoming Argentine citizens and working up in politics I am met on all sides with the cry of the "jealousies of race"—"The Foreigner would never get fair play." Now from what I know of the Argentine people after 26 years' residence amongst them, such an unfounded charge is not alone a gross error, but I might say a positive calumny.

Are not half our public men foreigners or the sons of foreigners, and what more right have Spaniards or Italians and their descendants to public honours and emoluments than we have? Or perhaps you will tell me that Admiral Brown was a Ligurian or that St. Patrick was a Dutchman. No, my countrymen, such is not the case, and I am brave enough to tell you that the fault is all our own. We are not united enough; petty jealousies and family bickerings prevailing where naught but fraternal affection should exist. In plain language we are too divided—Unity is strength! By this I do not mean exclusiveness: some of the best friends of Ireland's cause come from old England, happy Wales, or Bonny Scotland. Why are they not here to-night? And where is Consul Baker, for a quarter of a century the able commercial representative here of that great ark of human liberty, the United States of America, where hundreds of thousands of our fellow-countrymen have found happy homes, together with that fame and fortune to which honest ambition naturally aspires, and which stupid penal laws denied them at home in the land of their birth?

Far be it from me "to rake up old sores," but were I to pass this point over in silence we might be charged with ingratitude.

Would my companions on the Committee exclude the "grand old man" himself were he here on a "paseo," because forsooth he had not the good fortune to be born on the western side of the British channel?

Dr. Donovan, our excellent Chief of Police, Prof. Fitzimons, head of the School Department, and Mr Emilio Hansen in the Finance Office, surely prove the correctness of my judgment as regards Argentine goodwill; but, were we more united, and did we study more carefully the language and character, and the interests of the Argentine people, at least one hundred more such cases could, no doubt, be quoted; for what the nation wants most now are "good men and true," and these must come to the front sooner or later, no matter what their native tongue or patronymic.

Without going back very far in history I could quote Irish names and noble deeds enough to engage your attention for a couple of hours or more, but I fear that I have already passed my limit, and as it is getting late, I will conclude by reminding you that some of San Martin's best officers in his hazardous transandine campaign were Irishmen to whom unquestionably belongs, in a great measure, the glory of having rescued the whole southern continent from the yoke of Spain. Admiral Brown beat all the enemies of the Republic at sea, whilst Canon Fahy, by inducing our countrymen to go to the camp, laid the foundations of our present gigantic wool trade, and gave our pasture lands a value that had never been dreamed of previously.

All this the Argentines know and feel deeply grateful for.

It therefore only remains for us to prove true to ourselves—a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together.

Are not our children some of the best scholars in the colleges in town? And can not that small green Isle in the North Atlantic which has given to all the chief nations in the world some of their greatest statesmen and warriors, also supply this fair land with a few governors and legislators, who, will yet raise the nation out of crisis and misfortune, making it what the Great Creator intended it to be—

Great, glorious and free;
Compact, content, and prosperous
From the Andes to the sea.

Mr. Cochrane sang the "Harp that once through Tara's Halls."

Mr. James Kavanagh proposed the next toast, "The Press of Buenos Ayres." I am glad to see at this festive board the editors of the Standard and the Southern Cross, two journals that never miss an opportunity of advocating the best interests of the country. Their services are so well known as to need no eulogy on my part. And I may add that as regards Mr. Michael Mulhall we are proud of him not only as a journalist but also as a statistician of European reputation.

Mr. M. G. Mulhall replied.

It affords me great pleasure to thank you very cordially on behalf of the Press of Buenos Ayres, the more so because the profession of journalism in this city is one of great influence and its influence is exerted for the public welfare.

The power of the Press is often greater than it appears. It is worthy of remark that one of the first acts of the Jesuits in this part of South America, in 1610, was to introduce a printing-press, which was put up in Cordoba, the first ever used in the New World. The Jesuits understood its value as a means of civilization. And in 1806, when Gen. Auchmuty captured Montevideo and declared it a British colony, his first care was to publish a newspaper called the Southern Star, for he knew that, after all, the pen is mightier than the sword.

There is no part of the world where the Press has reached a greater development in a few years than in Buenos Ayres. Thirty years ago the STANDARD was the only foreign journal in this city, and the total issue of all the papers did not exceed 5,000 copies. To-day we have more than a dozen daily papers, with an aggregate circulation of nearly 100,000 copies, as appears from the consumption of printing-paper imported. Moreover, this is the only city in the world in which you can have newspapers on your breakfast-table in English, French, Spanish, Italian and German.

Buenos Ayres has indeed every reason to be proud of its press, and the only drawback that journalism seems to suffer from is that Argentines do not stick to it as a profession. After an experience of a few years they retire from the editorial desk, pleading the necessity of rest from their labors, and usually drifting into some other occupation. Every day, in the streets, I meet lawyers, colonels, auctioneers, brokers or Cabinet Ministers, who at one period or other were my companions in the editorial omnibus.

At one time they were bright lights of journalism, but now they are so many extinct volcanoes. It is, perhaps, owing to this shifting character of editors in Buenos Ayres that newspapers, as a rule, are short-lived. I could make out a list of 100 papers that have sprung up and died in the last 30 years.

Nevertheless the papers that actually exist are admirable in their way. They are well edited and the proprietors spend large sums to maintain a first-class service of daily telegrams from Europe. I speak in a manner as an outsider, for I have seen the birth, and observed the fortunes, of nearly every paper now existing in the River Plate.

If the Press has made so much progress of late years we have every reason to hope that its power and utility will increase in the future. Our great aim should be the protection of life and property, the purification of all branches of the public service: in a word the motto of the Panama Star—

For the cause that needs assistance
For the wrong that needs resistance
For the future in the distance
And the good that we may do.

The chairman proposed the toast of "the United States" and coupled with it the name of Dr. Newland, who replied as follows—

As the descendant of an Irishman I am happy to take part in this great celebration. I am indeed a citizen of the United States, which is the next thing to being an Irishman, for my country has been the home of suffering and expatriated sons of Erin. They have prospered under the flag of the Stars and Stripes, and the feelings of Irishmen towards the Great Republic are no less warm-hearted than those of Americans towards the people who have given us such men as General Jackson and General Sheridan.

The chairman then proposed the "Sons of Irishmen," coupled with the name of "Professor Ryan, who was born in England."

Professor Ryan replied. Although born in England I join heartily with you in celebrating St. Patrick's Day, for I claim fellowship with the race that has produced Johannes Scotus, Wellington, Moore, Burke, Goldsmith, Grattan, Curran, Mitchell, O'Connell and Parnell. Let us for a moment consider what Irishmen have done abroad in the present century. They have built up the cities and railways of the U. States, and have proved good settlers in Australia. In Chile they have, in the person of O'Higgins, overthrown the Spanish yoke, and in the River Plate they can point to Admiral Brown, who contributed so notably to the independence of S. America. When I came to this country 30 years ago the Irish settlers were few in number, and little blessed with worldly wealth. But Divine Providence had given them in Canon Antony Fahy a guide, philosopher and friend, and it was mainly by his advice that they devoted themselves to sheep-farming and laid the bases of an industry which is second to none in this continent in importance. Father Fahy was a man of infinite tact and judgment, and of the most self-denying character. To-day the Irish estancieros are a powerful body: the map of Buenos Ayres is dotted over with the names of Browns, Hams, Duggans, Maguires, Dowlings, Gahans, Kennys, Dillons, Garahans, Connors, Harringtons, Murphys, Clancys, Hammonds, Mooneys, Morgans, Kavanaghs, Dennehys and others. In conclusion I beg to propose the health of Don Patricio Brown, the patriarch of the Irish community.

Other toasts followed, such as the Commerce of Buenos Ayres coupled with the name of Mr. Nelson; the Daughters of Erin, given with much eloquence by Mr. Hansen; the Irish Catholic Association, to which Mr. Ham responded; the Working-classes proposed by Mr. William Casey; the Committee, to which Mr. David Suffern replied in an admirable speech that was much applauded; and the Chairman, after which Dr. O'Farrell was called on to recite an ode composed by him for the occasion.

It was as follows and wa, listened to with wrapt attention;

EL CANTO DEL PATRIOTA.

I.

No es tan blanca la nieve de los Andes
Como el cabello del patriota anciano,
Ni es tan tierno el gemir de los rumores
Como los ecos de su voz amada,
Ni tan brillante el astro soberano
Como el dulce fulgor de su mirada.

II.

Fué testigo y actor en la contienda
Que formó una nacion independiente,
Y sus sienes ornaron los laureles
Tejidos en el templo de la gloria,
Para ceñir la valerosa frente
Del que alcanza á sus huestes la victoria.

III.

"Como un brote del grano de mostaza,"
Dice el héroe con voz enardecida,
"Nació ayer nuestro pueblo, hoy gigante;
"Pequeña fué la planta que crecera,
"Rompiendo audaz la piedra endurecida
"Para extender sus ramas por doquiera."

IV.

Mas grande fué, y el rumoroso viento
De libertad bendita, con ternura
Refrescaba sus flores y sus hojas
Que brindaban su sombra bienhechora
Al hijo que luchaba con bravura
En la grande cruzada redentora.

V.

Jamás el arbol doblegó su copa
Ante el empuje de aquilon potente
Que mil veces sopló su negro aliento,
Ni sus alucientes hojas arrancadas
Fueron para ceñir contraria frente
O caer al pié del vencedor holladas!

VI.

¿Como no amarte, ó patria legendaria,
Si es tan grande el renombre de tu gloria?
Ah! aunque fueras un peñon desnudo
Yo te adorara con filial anhelo,
Sin nombre, sin leyendas, sin historia,
Con tal que solo fueras patrio suelo.

VII.

Y creciste á la sombra bendecida
De la enseña del Gólgota gloriosa
Que levanta á los pueblos que cayeron,
Se alzan á Dios con humildad la frente
Y cava con paciencia estrecha fosa
Al pueblo que le insulta maldiciente!

VIII.

Y es lábaro inmortal de tus victorias!
Ante su luz cayeron tus campeones
De hinojos en las noches tenebrosas
Que precedieron á la lid gigante,
Ante tí, oh Señor de las naciones,
Que creas mundos en un solo instante.

IX.

Sus labios modularon la plegaria
De un pueblo . . . no lo cuento . . . es pequeño,
Pero titan si mido su esperanza;
Con fé marcharon á la lid ingente,
Frunciendo audaces el guerrero ceño
Y dieron vida á medio continente!

X.

Hoy adornan tu frente, patria mia,
Laureles por el cielo bendecidos;
Mas recuerda en los dias de tu orgullo,
Si ellos, ay! en tu historia ya llegaron
Que tus lauros son lauros desprendidos
De la sien de otros pueblos que pasaron.

XI.

Recuerda que la vida es una noche
Sin estrellas que guien, sin aurora,
Cuando la lumbre de la fé no brilla,
Y que pasan del hombre las quimeras
Cual visiones de luz engañadoras
Que brotan en los campos pasageros.

XII.

Recuerda que el orgullo es impotente
Para guiar los pueblos á la gloria,
Y el tiempo escribe con fatal sentencia
Su historia de dolor que dura un dia:—
Nacer—borrar á Dios de su memoria
Y morir en infame tiranía!

XIII.

Si quieres ser grandiosa, patria amada,
Levántate hasta Dios que es infinito;
El conjura las negras ambiciones,
El da valor al brazo del soldado,
El alhogará de la revuelta el grito
Dando gloria á tu nombre profanado.

XIV.

Ni es servil doblegar la altiva frente
Ante el nombre de Dios que en las alturas,
Resuena cual torrente de armonia,
Porque eres hija, patria bendecida,
Del Dios de Amor que guia á las criaturas
Por el erial desierto de la vida.

XV.

Y si tus hijos, míseros mortales,
Olvidaron su fé y tu grandeza,
Llama á su corazon con voz materna
Y decidles que el patrio sentimiento
Solo crece lozano y con pureza
Si la fé lo fecunda con su aliento.

XVI.

Y tu, oh Dios, Señor de las naciones,
Mostrad á nuestra patria sus senderos,
Y bendecidla con amor de padre;
Que no se aparte de la fé que hiciera
Glorioso el batallar de sus guerreros,
Ni excite tu venganza justiciera.

The assembly separated at midnight. The dinner was admirably served, and reflected much credit on the restaurateur, Mr. George Mercer.

BLACK MAIL IN ENTRE RIOS.

The audacity and success with which the Santa Fe Government has levied a Provincial export-tax on wheat, wool, hides etc. are a sufficient stimulus to the other Provincial Governments to do likewise. Entre Rios has followed suit, and before long every Province in the Republic will be levying black-mail, with the connivance of Congress. The Federal Court has repeatedly decided that this kind of tax is contrary to the Constitution, but that matters nothing. General Hornos used to say that the Constitution ruled as far as Barracas bridge, and we now see that it is a dead-letter in Santa Fe and Entre Rios.

Yesterday we received the following letter from Concepcion:—

March 13th.

Mr. Editor,

You always write of "black mail" in Santa Fe, but never mention Entre Rios. Please look at the "Impuesto de Tablada." This with the Contribucion Directa makes about $800 per square league of camp. Very promising the new Presidential Tax!!

"¡Viva la langosta!"

Yours,
Majadero.

The Constitution expressly lays down that it shall be lawful to move products from one part of the Republic to another free of tax, but the Governor of Entre Rios says he doesn't care a "damri" for the Constitution, and that the following taxes must be paid to the Alcalde of each district if any rural products be sold:

Wool, ton	10
Hair ,,	20
Nutria skins, ton	50
Feathers ,,	100
Cows per 100	75
Mares ,, ,,	40
Pigs ,, ,,	50
Sheep ,, ,,	6
Cowhides per 100	20

Impunity always leads to an increase of outrage, and we may fairly anticipate that if the above black-mail be connived at by Congress the amount will be doubled next year.

In the meantime the most prudent course for estancieros to adopt is to pay the tax, under protest, and send a petition to the National Government and the Federal Tribunal. Otherwise they will expose themselves to a repetition of the terrible scenes recently enacted in the Province of Cordoba when the colonists refused to pay a local tax on grain.

THE POTOSI MAILS.

Paris, Feb. 20th. General von Hustfort, of the Russian army, committed suicide to-day in this city. He was suffering from an incurable disease.

The historic palaces of Barras and Chimay are to be demolished shortly.

A Committee of French Bondholders has been organized on the same lines as the Board in London.

On the 18th there was a violent debate in the Chamber of Deputies on Mr. Hubbard's motion in regard to the Companies Bill. The Government was defeated and the Freycinet cabinet immediately resigned.

Berlin, Febr. 20. At the recent parliamentary banquet the Emperor William expressed his desire of visiting the Chicago Exhibition. He regretted that his state duties prevented him carrying out his wish.

Rome, Feb. 21. There was an eruption of Mount Vesuvius yesterday.

In Polenza there have been severe disturbances. The people attacked the Municipal Corporation.

A telegram from Messina states that the dynamite bomb found at the door of the Spanish Consulate was of cast-iron with two caps. A paper was found under the door of the Consulate with the following inscription: "Down with Spanish tyranny! Long live anarchy!"

BAND OF HOPE.

The third anniversary concert of the Buenos Ayres Band of Hope took place on Thursday avening in the Scotch Church at Barracas. The Chair was occupied by the Rev. T. H. Stockton, who opened the proceedings with prayer. To the chairman's appropriate, humourous, (not to say, pointed) remarks on several items of the programme the success of the evening was not a little due, while to say that each one of the performers acquitted themselves well, would be to give stinted praise.

Miss Makinnon "led the van" with a pianoforte solo "The Last Rose of Summer"—a compliment to St. Patrick's Day, which was repeated by Mr. Homberger in one of his zither solos. Miss Pattison also gave a piano solo, while the violin solos of Miss Schwartz and the piano duets of Mdlles Barber and Daniels gave a pleasant variety to the entertainment.

The vocalists were Miss Spence, Miss Jacobs, Mr. Hand, and the Revd. Mr Porteous. Miss Spence telling the plaintive story of "The Banks of Allen Water," while Mr. Hand was called upon to repeat the last verse of "True till death" and Miss Jacobs received an enthusiastic encore for "The song that reached my heart."

Of readings and recitations we had "divers sorts." Mr. Wallace relating the woes that befel certain members of "Our Methodist Church." Mr. Monteith Drysdale reading one of Bret Harte's most pathetic poems and Mr. Croke reciting the touching tale of "Billy's Rose."

During a short interval Mr. Wilson, (the Secretary,) read his Report, which was very encouraging and showed an increase of 85 members during the past year. It also contained some very interesting details regarding the methods of working wisely the Band of Hope, and pointing out the advances made despite many adverse circumstances. The Treasurer's balance-sheet showed a balance on hand.

THE B. AYRES CRICKET CLUB.

Mr. Editor,

I hope you will be able to find space in your columns for a few lines in reply to "About to Resign's" letter under the above heading, which appeared in your issue this morning. Before correcting certain erroneous statements contained in said letter, I must call the attention of those of your readers who are interested in the point at issue to the concluding paragraph of same, in which the author laments the dissentions in the club caused by the raising of the Cricket and Tennis question. Must it not strike everyone that "About to Resign's" action in the matter is in direct contradiction to his expressed wishes, as he is the very first person to rush into print on the subject and so inevitably cause more dissentions? Now let us consider his statements. He says:—

1. "They had evidently been whipped in from all quarters etc."

The wording of this sentence is calculated to mislead, as it is made to appear that only those whom I will call the "Cricketers" were "whipped in," whereas it is a fact that the "Lawn Tennisites" were also urged to turn up at the meeting. What could be more natural than that either side should wish to make as big a show as possible when such an important issue was at stake? I will only allude to the latter part of the sentence by remarking that surely the members that voted against the open tournament may be credited with having wills of their own, and should not be charged with having so little interest in the affairs of the club as not to have fully considered a matter which has already been so much ventilated.

2. In the origin of the Bill poster distributed at the door of the meeting "About to Resign" has no right to put the responsibility on the shoulders of the "Cricketers" as, it is as yet quite unknown who are the authors of same. In the many conversations I have heard on the subject, the prevailing opinion was that this scurrilous document did not emanate from the "Cricketers" side.

3. "Members have been induced to join under false pretences."

I do not argue with "About to Resign" that it is "generally understood in civilized countries that any club embracing Lawn Tennis should give open tournaments," and I do not believe that anyone Lawn Tennis player has joined the club with the sole object of playing in an open tournament, as your correspondent would wish us to believe.

4. In returning subscriptions to those members who wish to retire, it must first of all be clearly proved that the said members were really induced to join the club "under false pretences."

R. W. A.

Buenos Aires, 17th March.

Mr. Editor.

In your issue of this day appears a letter from somebody, who signs himself "About to resign", which letter decidedly savours of defeated spite, and moreover shows little knowledge of what is usually termed "fair play."

The whole tone of the letter tends to shew that the writer, at least, is a partisan of Lawn Tennis versus Cricket.

I am not a member of the club and, for that reason, was not at the meeting, but, from what I hear on all sides, the matter was fairly "thrashed out," and the cricketers won on their merits.

As regards his remarks about "whipping in", supposing the statement to be true, such proceeding is perfectly legitimate in any vital question which may occur in the life of a club; and the only wonder to me is that the Lawn Tennis members, who were so sure of winning beforehand, did not also "whip in" to a better tune.

Anyhow, I should think that "About to resign" had better resign as soon as possible, as he evidently has forgotten the good old saying that "next to giving a hiding it is the duty of every sportsman to be able to take one" with a good grace.

Yours faithfully

Umpire.

17th March.

Mr. Editor,

I have been following with interest, as far as a lady can, the progress of the quarrel between the two parties of the B.A.C.C. and after the letter of "One who intends to Resign," which I read in your paper this morning, I feel I can no longer sit quietly by and let it be taken for granted that "all" the ladies of the British community out here agree with their self-nominated champions in thinking they have been in any way insulted or treated with discourtesy by what you call the "Anti-lady party;" who are all presumably gentlemen, many of them husbands and brothers, and to whose conduct in this question such words cannot, in my opinion, with any show of justice be applied. Although as a lady I do not profess to know much about the rules of the Cricket Club, yet it seems to me that anyone with the usual amount of common sense must see that it is impossible that a ground set apart for cricket, supported by cricket lovers and players, and fairly big enough for the necessities of the club, should be thrown open to any non-members who may be seized with a desire to play Tennis there.

It seems to me that in a large English community like this, it is a great pity that there is no Lawn Tennis Club, which would save ladies and other non-members from being put in the uncomfortable position of feeling themselves in the way, and release them from the necessity of depending entirely on the kindness and consideration of the Cricket Club. The said club has had the courtesy to give up one day in the week to the ladies, which is as much as we could expect, and more than we have a right to demand.

Concerning the circular spoken of in your issue of this morning as being in "bad taste," I can only say that on seeing it, the first idea that struck me—and I am sure all others of "my" sex at any rate—was that no one could possibly imagen it to have been written by any "gentleman," least of all by one of the cricketers whose cause would so obviously have lost by such a proceeding. For myself I think it most probable that the circular is the work of some rather low-minded practical joker.

In conclusion let me express as my opinion that if the writer of this morning's letter really puts forward his own views, both in regard to the question in hand and the Cricket Club in general, the sooner he fulfils his threat and retires from the club, with which he has evidently so little sympathy, the better it will be for all parties.

Thanking you in anticipation, and hoping you will not think I have tres passed two much on your valuable space, permit me to sign myself.

Yours truly.

A Lady.

Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to ITS EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.
It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Friday, March 18.

The resignation of three members of the Caja de Conversion, the appointment of four new directors on the National Bank Board, the smash of the Murrieta Ld. Company, the appointment of Don Emilio Hansen to the financial portfolio, the farewell messages of Dr. V. L. Lopez to President Pellegrini—all fell flat upon the market and failed to raise a ripple on the dull surface of affairs. Not long ago all this news would have shaken the market to its foundations—to-day people have grown callous and wonder at nothing. Verily, if the whole Cabinet, Caja de Conversion, Board of the National Bank and Board of the Banco de la Nacion Argentina were to resign in the next 24 hours, the market would merely look on in a passive attitude, wondering at nothing and fully prepared to see even more startling events. Nothing short of the resignation of the President of the Republic would startle the market to day.

The resignation tendered by Dr. Vicente Fidel Lopez was known ten days ago, and the news was wired to London. The President of the Republic has taken ten days to consider the note of his ex-Minister, and accepted the resignation yesterday. It is idle to suppose that the pretext of deafness is at the bottom of the resignation, and it is quite evident that the National Bank imbroglio is the cause of the change in the Cabinet. The public is not deceived, and has a very poor idea of such devices to conceal the stern reality of the case. Just as the Minister sneers at the word "irrevocable" appended to certain resignations as a sorry compliment to the brains of certain public men—just so the market laughs at the lame excuse of the Minister to President Pellegrini; verily, the antecedents of Dr. V. F. Lopez warranted some more serious explanation for his departure from the side of his great and good friend, the President. Had he stated the plain facts the market would have a better opinion of his tardy decision to abandon the Cabinet.

The resignation of Messrs. Victor Martinez, Casas, and Areco, directors on the Board of the Caja de Conversion, was also a foregone conclusion in the hall. Six months ago these three resignations would have created a panic in the market, for the Caja was then considered the sheet-anchor of the financial situation. Affairs have changed since then, and in the midst of the greatest indifference we see the finance-minister leave the Cabinet, the majority of directors leave the Caja, and the National Bank Board appointed by the Government directly without any intervention of the shareholders. The situation is six sixes and sevens; and just as the Government puts in its own men on the National Bank Board we need not wonder if the same policy is pursued in the appointment of new directors of the Caja. It may be well to add that the government is floundering, rushing from one error into another: it was wrong to dismiss the directors of the National Bank who represented the shareholders interests, and it was wrong again when it failed to condemn the action of the Banco de la Nacion in issuing fractional notes.

With a view of confirming the ukase that dismissed Messrs. Unzue, Demarchi, Devoto and Solaberria from the National Bank, the National Govt. has appointed Messrs. A. Drago, E. Portela, C. Rodriguez and L. V Lopez to replace them on the Bank Board. In other words the Government is firmly resolved to maintain the ukase in spite of the action taken by the dismissed directors against the Chairman of the Bank. In the natural order of things, nothing else could be expected, for the Board of the National Bank cannot be allowed to continue without "quorum." The situation, however, is quite irregular and the market is puzzled to know how all this will end. A belief is gaining ground that the dismissed directors will gain the day before the courts, but we may depend upon it that the Government will forestall all eventualities by a timely appeal to Congress next May; let it be remembered that the Government interest in the National Bank is 90% of the total.

Telegrams have arrived from London announcing that the limited liability company that took over the affairs of Messrs. Murrieta has suspended payments. On the 16th ult. the London Financial Times wrote as follows:—

"It is getting very difficult to follow the history of the various moves in the Murrieta Relief Expedition. The process of unloading seems to have begun upon guileless Trust Company directors When this line was exhausted it became necessary to start a Trust Company for the special purpose, and accordingly there sprang into being the South American and Mexican Company. Early in 1891 it was found that all the unloading had not sufficiently lightened the ship, and the private firm itself was turned into a limited liability Company, which issued a million pounds of debentures under certain strictly defined conditions. And now we are presented with a terribly complicated scheme the Trust. The Trustees and Executors reply that they are not liable, and that as the South American and Mexican Trust has a large uncalled capital—somewhat over a million—the conversion will give the debenture-holders very valuable additional security.

"At a meeting of debenture holders the conversion was approved by an overwhelming majority. The trust deed provides that three fourths of the debentures bind the whole, and as an agreement was not come to with the Ottoman Bank and its friends this provision was acted upon and a vote of approval taken. Meantime the Committee had been sitting to search for a means of satisfying the dissentient debenture-holders and the Committee recommended several modifications of the original scheme. The dissentient debenture-holders, however, assert that the modications are all on minor points and do not touch the real difficulties which they put forward as preventing them from accepting the conversion. They offered, however, to accept the scheme if the Trustees and Executors' Corporation would guarantee it, but this the Corporation refused to do. The situation, then, stands thus: that over three-fourth of the debenture-holders have approved of the conversion scheme, and, if the trust deed is binding, the scheme is sure to be carried through; but the dissentient debenture-holders object that the majority consisted, to a large extent at all events, of persons who have twofold and irreconcilable interests; in other words, that besides holding Murrieta debentures they are so largely interested in the Trustees and Executors' Corporation, or in some other concern to which it is of vital importance that this conversion should be carried through, that their vote ought not to be allowed to count in deciding the question. It was intimated at the meeting that on this ground the matter would be carried before the Courts; and as the dissentient debenture-holders believe that they have suffered a wrong, it is by no means improbable that they may act upon the intimation; What view will be taken by the Courts it is, of course, impossible for an outsider to judge, so much will depend upon not only the trust deed, but also upon the conduct of the several parties. If the matter does go before the Courts, we may expect much interesting information as to the way in which in these latter days business is conducted in the City by eminent firms and influential financial concerns. We may add, in conclusion, that the Bank of England, which had made a large advance to the Messrs. de Murrieta and Co., and had a prior lien upon certain of the assets, has surrendered its claim in consideration for monthly payments, continued for a year and a half, which will discharge the debt due to it."

The latter statements affecting the Bank of England are important, and it is quite clear that the Bank must lose a heavy amount by the failure of the Murrieta Co., although the eventuality was foreshadowed months ago. Little importance, however, is attached to the catastrophe in this market, since operations with that company had been reduced to their narrowest limits since the beginning of 1891. For the London market, however, it is vital, as can be seen by the Galveston telegrams in another column.

The gold market ruled steady in the morning, but under yesterday's closing rates. Eleven thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring: the price opened at $55.80, fell to $55.70, and closed $55.90, say 234½% premium. Two thousand sovereigns were sold: the price opened at $17.30, rose to $17.37 and closed at $17.35, say 244½% premium.

Patriotic Bonds were weak, sinking to 59.90, but closing at 60. National gold cedulas A were firm at 30: National E at 73 and D at 71. La Plata Cedulas rushed over 30, closing firm at 30.30 to 30½, a comparatively heavy advance.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

The London Financial Times states that the Committee appointed by the creditors and shareholders of the English Bank of the River Plate has unanimously agreed on the reconstruction scheme, and that an application will be made to the Courts for permission to call a meeting of creditors in order to submit the arrangement to them. This application is necessary under the Companies' Arrangement Act, 1870, which provides that the Court shall be supplied with an outline of any proposal it is intended to submit, and with any other information it may require. The Court then lays down the procedure which shall be adopted, and also indicates the notice that shall be given and the details that shall be afforded to the creditors before they are summoned together to assent or dissent to any proposal. It is said that the adoption of the reconstruction scheme of the English Bank is now practically assured.

The exchange market continued in the same state as yesterday. Bank paper was quoted at 48¾ d. on London. The German Bank is drawing freely in paper at the equivalent of the above rates. Discounts continue difficult.

Up to last night the Government had not accepted the resignations tendered by Drs. Areco, Martinez and Cias, directors of the Caja de Conversion.

The Department of Public Works has sent to the Home Office Agrimensor Castro's measurements of an estate belonging to La Ganadera Nacional Company. After approval of the surveys the Company will begin wire-fencing the land.

The Land and Colonies Office have rented to Mr. J. Recate 10,000 hectares of land in the Pampa Central, for six years at the rate of $120 per league per annum.

The Chairman of the Board of City Improvement Works has informed the Government that the system of management in the Belgrano Aguas Corrientes is very irregular. There is no registry to check the payments for water service; there are no plans to show the laying of the pipes; finally, the accounts have not been kept as prescribed by law.

The Minister of Interior has sent back to his colleague of Finance ten land bills to the amount of $35,000%. These bills have been protested.

The gold market ruled steady at the second ring; nine thousand ounces were sold for to-morrow: the price opened at 55.90 and closed at 56.10, say 244½ % premium. Six hundred sovereigns were sold at 17.40, say 2454 % premium. A few shares of the Banco de Italia y Rio de la Plata changed hands at 64 gold, National Cedulas A paper were quoted at 92. La Plata Cedulas were firm at 30½.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring:—

HORSFORDS
PHOSPHATIC
BAKING POWDER

Ordinary Baking Powders are made either of Cream Tartar or Alum, Cream Tartar powders leave in the bread Rochelle Salts, a continuous use of which is not desirable. Alum powders are condemned by physicians as unhealthful. Neither of these powders add anything of nutritive value to the bread, and both produce, biscuit, cake, etc., that are dry and tasteless when cold. Professor Horsford's Phosphatic Baking Powder leaves in the Bread etc., the life sustaining Phosphates of which the flour is deprived in the process of bolting, and which are necessary to maintain health.

Mr. Wm. Kemmis, the well-known breeder of fine stock, writes as follows:—

Estancia Las Rosas,

10th Jan., 1891.

I consider that no estancia which has any stock worth giving medicines to ought to be without these medicines.

The GASEOUS FLUID is the very best colic medicine I have ever seen given to horses, and the RED DRENCH for any illness after foaling or calving or lambing is, I consider splendid.

Yours truly,
(Signed) W. KEMMIS.

CANNON'S
Sheep Dip
which obtained the only Prize medal at the Exhibition in Edinburgh 1890, and the eulogiums of all the Agricultural Press at the Royal Agricultural Show at Doncaster in 1891, where were exhibited Skins dressed with Cannon's Dip and those undressed showing a difference in value of over 2/- per dozen in favor of Cannon's Fluid. These Skins will be exhibited at the Feria of the Sociedad Rural at Dolores, Chascomus, Balcarce, Azul etc.
This Dip has the following advantages:—It never stains the wool, but augments the growth and ensures the highest value in the market. It is easy to use, being readily soluble in cold water, and hand curing is rarely required after.
